

U. C. MAN DESIGNS STATUE FOR FAIR

George M. Cumming, a graduate of the university in the engineering course of the class of '81, and for thirty years connected with the Southern Pacific railroad company in an engineering capacity, has submitted a design for a statue of St. Francis, the patron saint of San Francisco, to be erected in Lincoln park as one of the features of the 1915 exposition.

Cumming, who works at art during his spare moments, has done some notable work, designing the art work for the local and Santa Barbara stations of the Southern Pacific company and many other places. His latest design is acknowledged to be excellent in its simplicity and fitness of character.

His model represents the "great apostle of humility and poverty with outstretched arms giving a benediction to the world, its general outline symbolizing the cross.

Talk Number 14

OUR NEW FOUNTAIN. It's set up at last! the new fountain at THE CIRCLE in Northbrae Properties. We want you to go out and see it.

We don't like to brag, but it's the first piece of art work sculpture on Berkeley's streets, and we are naturally a little proud of it. The general plan is by John Galen Howard. The figures are by Arthur Putnam, the well-known animal sculptor. Four little grizzly cubs, they are, holding on their shoulders the upper bowl from which the water of the fountain flows.

To see it take the Northbrae car to THE CIRCLE.

EDUCATORS PAY TRIBUTE TO KEEP

Dr. Charles S. Nash, president of the Pacific Theological seminary in this city, Professor Cornelius Bradley of the university and many former students at Mills college, members of the Berkeley club and the university, attended memorial services for Professor Josiah Keep, the Mills college scientist who died at Pacific Grove this summer. The services were held in the college chapel yesterday afternoon.

Dr. David Barrows, president of the board of trustees of Mills, spoke of the debt of gratitude the college owed to the late Professor Keep. Professor Cornelius Bradley spoke for the members of the Berkeley club. Professor Bradley also touched upon the early life of the scientist, and Mrs. Anna Coyle Friend, a graduate of Mills with the class of 1900, told of the love of science and nature that Professor Keep had inspired in all his students.

Miss Alice Coleman rendered Gounod's "Ave Maria" with violin obbligato. Uda Waldron was organist for the services.

HOLD FUNERAL OF PIONEER WOMAN

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Hannah Lowe, the pioneer Berkeley woman, were held this morning at 11 o'clock at All Souls' Chapel, Cedar and Spruce streets, the Rev. W. R. Hodgkin officiating. The services were largely attended, and the esteem in which Mrs. Lowe was held by her many friends was shown in the large number of beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Lowe was survived by her husband, David W. Lowe; two daughters, Mrs. R. D. Williams of Tasajara and Mrs. W. A. Wallis of this city; a brother, John G. Hill of Oakland, and a sister, Mrs. Alec Ross of Toronto, Canada. Mrs. Lowe was a sister of the late Susan and Isaac Hill of Nova Scotia.

THINKS TAFT WILL RECEIVE NOMINATION

LOS ANGELES, September 4.—United States Senator John D. Works, in an interview here, announced his belief that Taft would be nominated for president by the Republican party and that the outcome in the election was in his opinion uncertain. Senator Works is in favor of the nomination of Senator La Follette, but does not think he can win the nomination.

Senator Works said: "I have disagreed with him on some important questions. I still disagree with him. We may never agree wholly on all matters of governmental policy. But I respect him as an honest man who in my judgment, is mistaken on some vital questions. But I have no reason to doubt the honesty of his convictions or his patriotism."

"I have no desire to get out of the Republican party. If insurgency is to accomplish the reforms it advocates, it must do so through the Republican party. There are those who believe it will serve the purpose to defeat President Taft by the election of a Democrat next year. I prefer to believe that we can accomplish our purpose sooner and more satisfactorily through the Republican party. Besides, I am not one who has any personal grievances towards the president. As to Taft's renomination, I am certain that it is foreordained. I would prefer another Republican candidate who comes nearer my own view. If I should participate in the fight for California's delegation I should urge a vote of protest against the president. But I am quite sure it will be little more than a vote of protest—the alignment is already so drawn that his renomination seems inevitable."

"When he is renominated, of course I shall support him because, as I already said, insurgency can accomplish more through Republican victory than through any other means."

"Senator La Follette has a large following. I think all the insurgents are for him except two or three. At this time I prefer him. There is another element that would like to see Col. Roosevelt renominated. But he is not and will not be a candidate. While I agree with Col. Roosevelt in the main, I do not agree with him on some questions, yet if he were nominated I could support him cheerfully. But it seems improbable that he will be even mentioned in the convention as a candidate."

"I know some who advocate defeating Taft at the polls and turning to Roosevelt four years from now. They would choose Woodrow Wilson. It is my belief that if the Democratic convention had been held before now and Wilson was nominated (as I believe he would be) he would be elected this fall. But with a year or more to elapse before the presidential election, I can see the possibility that powerful interests will bring about the nomination of Judson Harmon."

U. C. GRADUATE FAVORS SUFFRAGE

Following a critical study of suffrage conditions in England, where he has been continuing his studies since graduating from the university, Samuel J. Hume has championed the suffrage cause and expressed his sentiments in favor of the enfranchisement of women in a contribution to the current issue of the "Federation Courier," the official organ of the Federated Women's clubs.

"How any one in this age and particularly in this country where the doors of every profession have been thrown open to women, where women have been admitted into all manner of trades and occupations, how any one can advance the argument that sex is a disability to the casting of a ballot is difficult to understand," declares Hume.

Hume was a visitor in London during the recent suffragette demonstration and has kept the local women advised concerning the situation in England. Through his courtesy the local journal has been able to reproduce scenes of various suffragette meetings.

Hume is one of the best known members of the English club of the university and distinguished himself for his dramatic work. He is at present a student in the University of Edinburgh.

His suffrage views appear under the caption of "The First Time Voter," the following being an extract: "The idea that woman is unfitted by her sex for the position of an elector in the State or that it would be undignified or outside her sphere, will not bear the light of analysis," writes Hume. "This idea is a relic of an age that has passed; one of those ideas which must sooner or later be given up as inconsistent with present-day conditions."

WORK EXEMPLIFIED BY LOCAL CORPS

Lookout Mountain post relief corps gave a successful exemplification session Friday afternoon at Odd Fellows hall in the presence of a number of the high officials of the order. Among the women present who commanded the local corps on the splendid work were Mrs. Corn Merritt, past department president who organized Lookout Mountain corps, and eight or nine visiting corps presidents. More than 250 visitors were guests of the local organization.

An interesting interlude was the presentation by Georgia Hodgman, in behalf of the corps, of a souvenir to Mrs. Kate Reed Field and of a box of candy to Mrs. Carrie Dibble by Mrs. Albina Neilson.

Mrs. Field and Mrs. Dibble completed the work as department inspector and post department president respectively.

BIG FOUNTAIN FOR NORTHBRAE

An artistic fountain, decorated with a pair of grizzly bear cubs, the work of Arthur Putnam, a well-known animal sculptor, is being completed at The Circle, in Northbrae, at a cost of $2500. The fountain was designed by architect John Galen Howard.

The Northbrae car line is being extended to the northern limits of the property. The firm of Mason-McDuffie today reported that it, sales for August amounted to $70,000, which is larger than any record made during the last fifteen months. Most of the purchases were for cash. Three houses, costing from $6000 to $10,000 each, are being erected.

U. C. SCIENTIST TALKS ON HYGIENE

Prof. W. B. Herms of the university lectured last evening at the Epworth Educational Church on the subject of "Worldwide Health Movements." Prof. Herms recently returned from Europe, where he attended the international hygiene exhibit at Dresden, Germany.

The scientist went to the exhibit as a delegate from the university and the state of California and was in an excellent position to investigate the subject.

Professor Herms is well known for his work in the control of the malaria-bearing mosquito and the housefly, as well as other parasites and disease-bearing organisms.

BERKELEYAN BERAKS RECORD

Walter M. Pomeroy's record for swimming Golden Gate was broken yesterday by E. A. Freeman, a senior at the University of California, who accomplished the feat in 23 minutes, lowering Pomeroy's time one minute and 50 seconds.

There were nine other young men from the university who also swam the gate, but did not approach the time of Freeman. Alfred Proctor of Sausalito only failed by 100 yards in swimming from Fort Point to Lime Point an back again.

Hazel Beattie Laughaour, the first woman who made the trip, entered the water about half way across and landed at Lime Point for a moving picture company while the others were swimming.

FISHER'S MODEL LONGS FOR HOME

Although posing for Harrison Fisher, one of the foremost artists of America, and being accorded by art circles of the metropolis as one of the most attractive of the many beautiful models, Miss Maurine Rasmussen, the Berkeley girl, who left early in the year for New York, yearns for her western home according to letters received by friends here.

Miss Rasmussen expresses herself as displeased with the artificial life of the metropolis but there is little chance of her returning here for some time at least. At present Fisher is engaged in making a number of illustrations for a forthcoming publication with the local girl as the model.

More than five hundred former residents of Plumas and Sierra counties gathered yesterday at a reunion picnic held in the spacious grounds of the White Villa at the corner of West and Ellsworth streets.

James S. Heavly of this city acted as chairman of the day and arranged the interesting program of speeches following the basket luncheon. Addresses were made by Frank H. Webb of this city and Louis J. Hyington of San Francisco, two prominent San Francisco attorneys, who formerly lived in Downsville, Sierra county.

A permanent organization was formed yesterday with Frank Webb as the president and W. J. Aschbacher, who acted as secretary of yesterday's arrangements, as secretary.

Plans are being made to hold another picnic in the spring at East Shore park in Stege.

CHAMP CLARK SPEAKS.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, August 4.—Five thousand heard Champ Clark speak here today. He said in part: "One of the crowning glories of the twentieth century will be the discovery of a plan whereby every man and woman will enjoy the fruits of their own labor."

MILITIA WILL BE USED IN LABOR WAR

NEWCASTLE, England, September 4.—That the present military activities in England are due not to any fear of war, but to a determination on the part of the king and government to suppress by force the uprisings of the workmen, which are becoming more frequent and violent, is the declaration of leading delegates to the forty-fourth annual English Trades Union congress, opened here today. A terrible and bloody labor war now seems inevitable, unless the attitude of those in authority is speedily changed. To use the army to force British laborers to work ten hours a day for $5 a week is asserted by union officials to be the "patriotic" intention of the government. As a result, the spirit of anti-militarism is for the first time rife in England and finds expression in the labor congress.

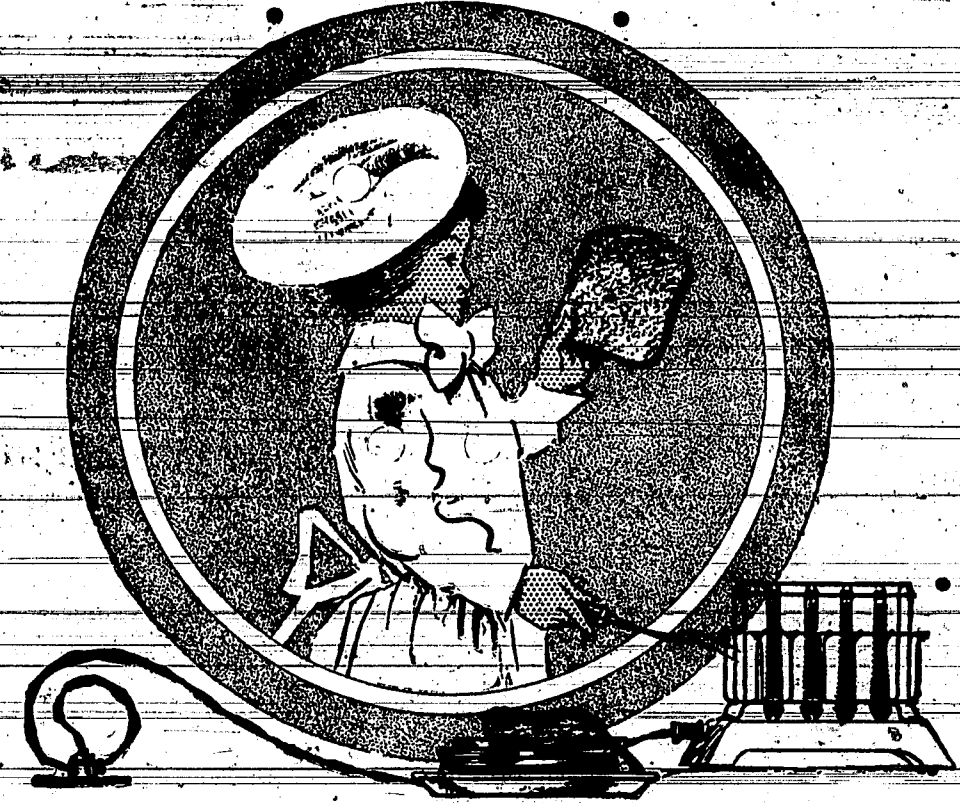

One of the first matters taken up by the congress was a resolution presented by the Glass Blowers' Trade Society, which wishes the congress to declare a regular standing army a menace to popular liberty and recommend as a substitute a citizen army, similar to the national guard of the United States, free from military law during times of peace, officered through election from the rank and file and to be used only as a defensive force against foreign invasion. This resolution was received with approval by a majority of the delegates, and is significant of a great change in the attitude of the workmen toward the army.

The miners' federation demands a law prohibiting unskilled laborers from working in mines. The ship assistants' union demands legal abolition of the system prevalent in England of requiring clerks and seamen to live on their working premises at a price for board and lodging arbitrarily fixed by the employer. Another resolution provides for the nationalization of industrial insurance. The brass workers and metal mechanics want a law prohibiting employers from dismissing employees solely because they belong to unions.

GOVERNMENT TO SUE OIL CONCERN

PORTLAND, Ore., September 4.—Assistant Federal Attorney General Townsend admitted today that he was preparing to sue the Southern Pacific railroad company and Kern Oil Trading Corporation and its subsidiaries to recover 100,000 acres in the Coal-lina, McKittick, Midway and Maricopa oil fields, worth $400,000,000. The land was illegally granted in 1868.

Two-Minute Toast—Any Time

Toast is the foundation for many delicious dishes—Welsh Rarebits, Asparagus, Club Sandwiches, etc. But if these ordinarily toothsome viands are served on charred, or soggy, or brittle Toast, they lose their delicious zest. Perfect Toast can be made only in the General Electric Radiant Toaster. For this reason: radiant heat forces the absolutely necessary chemical change in the bread. This insures the delicious golden Toast that fairly makes the mouth water.

You can operate the General Electric Radiant Toaster on the finest damask table cloth. The cheerful glow of its coils on a neat porcelain base creates a snug and soothing atmosphere. It makes Perfect Toast as fast as you can eat it—and at one-tenth of a cent a slice.
